

Pamela L. Phillips, FNP

Pam Phillips, MSN, ARNP, CFNP-C has been a resident of New Mexico for over 45 years and has been working in health care in the New Mexico community for thirty years. She obtained her Associate Degree in Nursing at Albuquerque Technical Vocational Institute in 1992. She subsequently obtained her Bachelors Degree in Nursing at UNM in 2012 and Masters Degree in Family Nurse Practitioner at the University of St. Francis in 2021.

She is excited to join the medical staff at the New Mexico Clinical Research & Osteoporosis Center to continue providing care for the residents of New Mexico.